The Wellington Hospital

The Wellington Diagnostics and Outpatient Centre (WDOC), is proud to announce that an expansion project has already commenced. Building an additional floor at Roman House will be completed by November, 2010. This extensive development will undoubtedly improve upon the services already provided at WDOC, as well as introducing new specialist medical care to the centre. Our existing adult and paediatric ENT services will be developed upon, and we look forward to new orthopaedic, oncology and pain management facilities, using state of the art diagnostic equipment. Such developments to our service mean that we will be welcoming many new highly respected consultants to WDOC, for our new opening in Jan. 2011.

We will be introducing new digital mammography, which not only allows improvement in image storage and transmission, but will expose our patients to less radiation. Furthermore, the installation of a highly technical Fluoroscopy Unit will ensure a service of excellence, in the field of pain management. Our cardiology services have also been greatly developed and due to the installation of new software, we can now provide same-day reporting of echocardiograms. In addition, we are fortunate to have a cardiologist that provides cardiac CT scanning in our imaging department. Such developments in our diagnostic services will ensure that we provide an optimum level of care to our patients, using the most modern methods of care.

We are currently compiling a consultant directory for 2011, providing contact details and a brief description on each Consultant's speciality. When completed, the directories will be available for collection from WDOC. Our current 2010 edition can be collected during opening hours at WDOC, Golders Green.
